Subject	Identify and promote the good practices of local authorities in public communication campaigns on migration and integration at EU level.

Empower local border authorities to implement successful evidence-based public communication campaigns on migration and integration through on-the-job training and support

Short Description

In a first step, the project will identify local authorities' good practices in public communication campaigns on migration and integration through the implementation of the "Award for the best LA public communication campaigns promoting positive narratives on migration and integration in the EU" and the production of the CLARINET Positive Storytelling Kit on Migration for Local Authorities.

In a second step, the project will empower border local authorities to implement successful evidence-based public communication campaigns on migration and integration, through on-the-job training and On-demand support provided by migration and communication experts to border LAs staff. As a result, LAs will implement public communication campaigns involving TCNs and EU citizens testimonies, thanks to the collaboration with artists involved in local residencies. The project also plans to promote at EU level good practices of Las communication campaigns on migration and integration.

To do so, the CLARINET web-platform will be developed in 8 languages, featuring an online map of good practices; a social media campaign will be implemented in 8 EU countries. The project results will be promoted through a final event; dissemination at EU level will be ensured by the European Coalition of Cities Against Racism.
